

BOARD OF WORKS GIVES GLAD HAND

"Election Smile" Is Portion of Taxpayers Who Come to Complain.

SIDEWALK REPAIRS PROMISED

Protests Which Have Long Lain Unnoticed Take on Importance—
Election Cause of Activity.

Until last Friday night, the board of public works ignored the complaints of the taxpayers in sidewalk extension No. 28, who have been protesting for two months about the condition of the walks which are being laid by the James Kennedy Construction company, the same firm which laid the sidewalks in extension No. 108 in the southeastern part of the city which caused so much trouble. With hand shakes, Mr. Kennedy, who is protesting taxpayer, "election" smile, the protesting taxpayers were received by the members of the board. "Why, we will be delighted to do anything that we can to give you the best sidewalks in the city," Theodore H. G. McMillin said. Theodore H. G. McMillin, president of the board, said on behalf of the property owners and the board promised to have a city engineer look over the work, and replace any defective sidewalks. Mr. Baer said this morning that the city engineers are looking the abutting property owners.

"For blocks," Mr. Baer declared, "the work is not properly laid. The walk in front of my house is about 2 1/2 inches in front of the contract calls for a 4-inch walk. There are scores of other property owners protesting but it has done no good so far. The promise that the board made is the first one that I have received. It encourages me and I might be that the board will have the defective walks relaid."

ARE VIOLATING CONTRACT.

George V. Morris, a contractor, who lives at 524 west Third North street, declares that the contractors are violating their contract and defrauding the taxpayers in this extension.

"The amount of materials as set forth in the specifications have not been placed in the walks," Mr. Morris said. "In front of my house the concrete is mixed almost dry and contained too much sand and not enough cement. I do not think that the surfacing was mixed according to specifications in the contract. The sidewalk is crumbling now in places and it can be broken in places with a small hammer any place. I have made complaints about it but it did no good."

CONFESSION OF INSPECTOR.

"I had a talk with Sam Galeazzi, the inspector, and he admitted to me that he knew nothing about cement work. I had the engineer down to look at the work and Galeazzi was removed at the time. I understand that he is now employed on the conduit on North Temple street as an inspector of the same kind of work."

HIGH PRICED SEWER.

The board of public works also announced Friday night that the intercepting sewer is now in commission and conditions can be made Monday. Notices are being sent out to all the residents who have been waiting for three years to connect with the sewer. The "Americans" are doing this. No more are being sent out to all the residents who have been waiting for three years to connect with the sewer. The intercepting sewer contract was let in October 1906 for $135,000. Since then it has cost the taxpayers $155,000 extra. After the sewer was laid it was found that it had broken in several places and had sunk down so that it could not be placed in service. Then it was found that the sewer had been laid up with sand and this had to be cleaned out at the cost of hundreds of dollars. The breaks have been repaired but there is still danger of it being put out of commission any time and the sewerage backing up into the houses on account of the mistakes made in the plans.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

The West Paradox Mutual Irrigation company, which was incorporated in Colorado, Feb. 27 last, wants to do business in Utah, and has appointed Fred M. Frewer, of San Juan county, as its agent in this state. The company filed copies of its articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state, showing that it was capitalized at $25,000 in shares of $1 each. F. M. Frewer is president and Edwin M. Hawkins is secretary.

Copies of its articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state by the Utah Wax company, which was incorporated in Arizona, July 2, 1906. Claudius L. King is appointed the Utah agent of the company. The company was capitalized at $10,000 in shares of $1 each. The president is H. M. Black and Palma Black is secretary.

CROUP CURED AND A CHILD'S LIFE SAVED.

"It affords me great pleasure to add my testimony to that of the thousands who have been benefited by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My child, Andrew, who only three years old, was taken with a severe attack of croup, and thanks to the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy his life was saved and today he is a robust and healthy boy," says Mrs. A. Coy, Jr., of San Antonio, Texas. "This remedy has been in use for many years. Thousands of mothers keep it at hand, and it has never been known to fail. For sale by all druggists."

DEBATES AT Y. M. C. A.

Series on Topics of Vital Interest to Be Held Every Sunday.

It was announced Sunday at the Y. M. C. A. that there would be debates on topics of vital interest, held at the association every Sunday afternoon thereafter. The topic for next Sunday being, "Resolved, that a man who works six days a week is justified in using Sunday for his own amusement and recreation."

This debate is to be followed by others as follows:

Resolved, that the average man can be a Christian without belonging to a church.

Resolved, that a good, moral man is the ideal citizen.

Resolved, that no man should marry until he is 25.

Resolved, that betting is excusable under certain circumstances.

Resolved, that the big Thanksgiving football games should be abolished by schools and universities.

Resolved, that a young man should never drink intoxicants as a beverage.

Resolved, that a young man should select that honorable life-work which will bring him the most money.

Resolved, that a divorced person should be prohibited by law from marrying again.

Resolved, that all theaters in this city should be closed on Sunday.

Resolved, that this city should have a theater commission, whose duty it should be to approve of the moral standard of every show and picture film before its presentation to the public.

Resolved, that the Bible should be read in all public schools of this state.

FIVE TEACHERS RELEASED.

Nine New Ones Employed at Board of Education Meeting.

Five teachers were released from duty in the city schools and nine new ones employed, at a meeting of the city board of education held Saturday afternoon, six of the teachers employed being for service in the grade schools and three for the high school. Those released were: Grace Maguire, Leah Martin, Katherine Parsons, Charlie Romeno and Mabel Gardner. The teachers in the grade schools were named as follows: Catherine McCarrick, Grace Tempest, Esther Hart, Cora Russell, Elvretta Parmenter and Ethel Johnson. The teachers for service in the high school are Hazel Stevens, Ruth Storer and Guy Montgomery. The appointments of Miss Storer and Mr. Montgomery become effective with the beginning of the February term. All others take effect at once.

The board decided to place an iron stairway from the ground to the assembly hall in the gymnasium at the high school, and the bid of the Crager Iron Works of $575 for the work was accepted. The stairway will be constructed on the north side of the building.

The board also decided to construct a cement sidewalk in the high school grounds, in place of the present gravel walks. The building and grounds committee was instructed to call for bids for the work and to rush it to completion.

The bid of David Green of $1,468 for constructing the cement walks around the Jefferson school on south West Temple street was accepted by the board. Other bids were as follows: Gillerson & Long, $1,709.40; Black & Leister, $2,054.90.

VAUDEVILLE SHOW TO BE DARK TONIGHT

No Comedy Turns at City Council Because Actors Are Busy Mending Political Fences.

There will be no meeting of the city council tonight. When the hour for adjournment came at the meeting of the council held last Monday evening, the motion to adjourn until Nov. 8, which is a week from tonight, was carried. The hubbub and business attendant upon the evening before election are doubtless the reason for the motion, which was made and carried by the "American" majority in the council, and the anxiety of the members of the majority party in the council as to the stability of their political fences and to join in the eleventh hour "spellbinding" was apparent as a motive for putting the business of the city off for two weeks.

There was also another motive which was not shown on the surface. Councilman Hall at last Monday's meeting attacked the policy of the city council in permitting Tom Kearns to advertise the "American" ticket on the public property in the street in front of the building being erected by him on Main street. That this violation of law is condoned and abetted by members of the majority in the council is apparent from the fact that when Mr. Hall presented a resolution to the effect that the sign be removed from the public street, the majority of the council smothered the resolution by moving that it go over "until the next meeting," knowing full well that the next meeting would be held Nov. 8, or a week after election. Meanwhile the sign is still in the street with the full knowledge and approval of the "American" majority of the city council.

MODERN BELIEF IN REVELATION

Elder Joseph W. McMurrin Affirms
That the Bible Has Not Been Slighted.

OTHER RECORDS IN ADDITION

Abundant Evidence in Support of the Book of Mormon Found on American Continent.

The attendance at the tabernacle services yesterday afternoon was hardly up to that of the past few Sundays, owing probably to the fact that the cool, frosty air kept some of the older people in doors. President John R. Winder was in his place as usual and took charge of the services.

The musical part of the services consisted of three anthems, "Song of the Redeemed," "Gathering Star" and "Awake O My Soul." In the last anthem the solo parts were taken by John Summerhays and Lizzie Thomas Edwards.

The speaker was Elder Joseph W. McMurrin of the First council of seventies. The opening prayer was offered by Elder E. P. Grant, and John M. Knight of the Ensign stake presidency offered the benediction.

Elder McMurrin expressed himself as feeling weak in occupying such a responsible position. He did not think that anyone felt able of himself to carry on God's work in the earth, and he thought that all the members should pray that the speakers in the Church might be able to speak not by man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the spirit and of power.

He thought that the belief of the Latter-day Saints in revelation has caused them to be greatly misunderstood, in spite of the fact that the Lord has revealed himself at other times in the history of the world, of which appears in the Bible, which the Latter-day Saints believe as far as it is translated correctly. Some errors have crept into that sacred book, and some years ago, on account of the feeling that had grown among scholars that a new translation was necessary, a revision was made and is now known as the "Revised Edition."

OTHER INSPIRED RECORDS.

The Latter-day Saints believe in other records in addition to those contained in the Bible, as for instance, the Book of Mormon, the true of the Book of Mormon record is set forth by a signed statement by witnesses who testify to its correctness as a result of the visitation of an angel to them. These witnesses remained faithful to their testimony until they died, and they often reiterated it during their lives, which is presumptive evidence of its truth.

Elder McMurrin referred to the fact that abundant evidence in support of the Book of Mormon had been found in America, among the various Indian tribes. People are willing now to believe that the Indians are the remnants of a once highly intelligent and cultivated people, but they have not been able to find out whence they came. This is told in the Book of Mormon, which gives a full account of the origin of the ancient people of America, which cannot be disproved. Elder McMurrin also bore a strong testimony to the divinity of the record and he referred to the book of Doctrine and Covenants which contains a number of revelations given by God for the guidance of the Church. The Book of Great Price was also said to contain the revelations of God, and all of these books bear testimony to the truth.

IS NO CONFLICTION.

The testimony borne by the Latter-day Saints that these works are true, and that God does reveal himself, does not conflict with anything recorded in the Bible. It is stated in the Book of Revelation that if anyone shall add to the words of that book God will add to him the plagues written in the book, but that cannot be taken to mean that God is punishing those who reveal truths whenever he sees fit to do so, and that no more was to be revealed after that time.

pany, with Mr. Mack at the head of the cast, presents "Thelma" tonight.

Bungalow—The elephants which are to render an act at the Bungalow this week are already in town, and will appear in the afternoon and evening performances.

Mr. Cort Here—John Cort, president of the Northwestern Theatrical association, which includes in its circuit of theaters the Colonial and Bungalow in this city, is in Salt Lake today on his way to the Pacific coast. Mr. Cort is here to look over the situation theatrically, and get into touch with conditions in the west. He said that the success which the production of "The Kissing Girl" at his New Chicago theater had met with was very gratifying to him, especially as there had been a strike on among the bill posters of the windy city and there had been the "wall paper" put out for the play, no advertising had been done except in the newspapers.

Mr. Cort said that Salt Lake City was one of the best advertised cities in the country.

was written. Otherwise a number of the books of the Bible as they stand now would have to be discarded as they were written later than John's Revelation. The Book of Mormon and the Pearl of Great Price have not been added to the Book of Revelations, although they contain much additional truth.

The Latter-day Saints contend for the faith which was once delivered to the saints, and as God is the same yesterday, today and forever, he has revealed truths in these days which are of great worth to the human family. He speaks today, and as the result of that this work has been brought into existence. It is said, by some that the Latter-day Saints have inaugurated a new way of getting into heaven, but the fact is they are only following the Scriptures literally.

Elder McMurrin read the account of the healing of the lame man by Peter and commented on it. It might have been thought that such an exhibition of God's power would have made the apostles honored of all men, but it aroused enmity against them instead, and they were cast into prison. Later when they were released and given a chance to speak to the multitude they explained that the miracle was done in the name of Jesus of Nazareth, whom they had persecuted. Mormonism bears testimony also to the power of Christ, and his name is the only name given by which men may be saved. Passages were also read from the Doctrine and Covenants which state that the name of the Church was to be the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, which helps to show that the statements made in the world that the Latter-day Saints do not appreciate the efficacy and power of Jesus Christ are not true.

OBEDIENCE NECESSARY.

In addition to believing in the words of Jesus it was said that obedience is also necessary, and the experience of Philip in Samaria, where many people were cast into prison, who afterwards received the Holy Ghost under the hands of Peter and John, was spoken of. The baptism of the eunuch was also referred to, this sacred rite being performed only after he had confessed belief in the power of Christ. The Latter-day Saints believe in Christ and practice the doctrines he taught. The Scriptures say that he that believeth and is baptized shall be saved. There is no other way to salvation than that which is laid down by the Savior, who said that he that entered into the sheepfold except through the door is a robber. St. Paul said, "though we or an angel from heaven preached any other gospel than that which ye have received let him be accursed."

There was no uncertain sound to the teachings of the apostles of old, and he trusted there was no uncertain sound today. It was true that God had spoken from the heavens and hundreds of thousands of people all over this country are able to bear testimony to the fact. They have proved it to their satisfaction and know that the angel spoken of in Revelations has flown through the heavens having the everlasting gospel to preach to them that dwell on the earth, before his judgments shall overtake the nations.

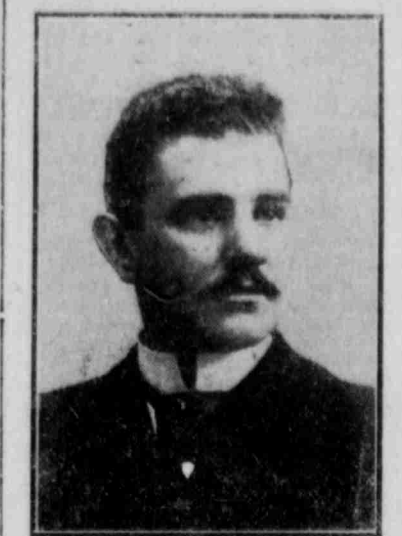

The U. S. Government in its "Pure Food Law" does not "show" a "guarantee" any preparation, as some manufacturers in their advertisements would make it appear. In the case of medicines the law provides that certain drugs shall be mentioned on the labels, if they are ingredients of the preparations. Ely's Cream Balm, the well-known family remedy for cold in the head, hay fever and nasal catarrh, doesn't contain a single injurious drug, so the makers have simply to print the fact that it complies fully with all the requirements of the law.
